IN DOUBT.

Specials from Lexington and Louisville to the Climax at 6 o'clock this morning place the result as between Hardin and Bradley in the State in doubt, with the indications against Hardin.

Democrats and Republicans both claim it, but the Republicans much more sanguine.

The partial burning of the University of Virginia was a great misfortune.

South Carolina's Constitutional Convention defeated the Woman Suffrage clause by a vote of 5 to 1, which is equivalent to saying that the old voluntee State has all the voters it needs.

CONFUSES THE NAMES.

The Louisville Times referred editorially to the publication of a letter from Green Clay, of Mississippi, brother of Hon. C. M. Clay, Jr., but put it Green Clay Smith. During the U. S. E. the Times said that Green Clay Smith conducted Gen. Nelson from the battlefield of Richmond. The Times should bear in mind that Smith doesn't always follow the words, Green Clay. It was one Green Clay who aided Nelson, another one who wrote the letter, and neither one is named Smith.

A VANISHED INDUSTRY.

It is probably not generally known that pork packing has ceased to be a business in Louisville. The packing houses of Fred Leih & Sons have announced their intention not to kill any hogs this season. This doubtless marks the close of a once gigantic business in the Falls City. Other local firms who were leaders in the business, and who represented a capital of $1,000,000, have gone out of the business. The business has been passed over to Louisville to Cincinnati, Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha and Omaha.

THE NEGRO OF THE SOUTH.

The Negro of the "Old South" was a character unique; the Negro of the "New South" is almost characterless. He is known as one of the flesh (Galatians 3:10-21). He is lazy and disposed to think the white man owes him a living, which he must get night. Most of them are ignorant; many cannot read their names. This is not due to any lack of appropriations from the school funds of the several States, but to his own lack of appreciation of an education and efforts to acquire it.

Many of the Northern people would have believed that the Negro is not wholly bad, but a residence in the South will convince any one that the reverse is the truth. "What's bred in the bone is born in the flesh," is always true. The whites of the ante-bellum days are blamed for the existing, thieving habits of the Negroes of today. It will take generations of education and moral training to eradicate the two evils of dishonesty and thievery. The climate and the easy mode of getting a living—half work, hunting, fishing, and stealing—promote idleness.

A few negroes have something of their own. This is the exception, and not the rule. If fewer of them went to the towns they would do much better. They are too good to work, and then a nigger like to blame his kind. May be, too, they don't care to perform and escape the tedium in the towns.

Many of the older negroes who were slaves are now respectable people in many ways, if not in all. I find "Uncles" and "Aunties" and "Black Maammies" who are respectable to the whites in whose families they live.

The Northern people would have us believe the negroes in Dixie are a much altered people. They would have us submit to the unmanly, semi-barbarous negroes of this day and age, feel him in his own and give him a place in our families and in our churches. If they had to submit to it, and had no party in interest to serve by their ways, they would soon change their views.

I think an old negro I talked with one day was right. He said, "You and two different kinds of people. I belong in the kitchen, and if you axes me to cut with you, I think you ain't much. These niggers got to keep on followin' the tool Yankee till they are all spiced." This proves, for it is a fair sample of the sentiment of the people of color throughout the South, that the negro's content with unequal. The negro's religion is only an enlightened and formulated superstition. All his African ancestors ever practiced of incantation and voodooism is still believed. Nollagiveness him only a cloak under which he may practice in different garb, the same fanatical physical excitement. There is more real influence or motive power in a current superstition or an old grave yard at night, than in the entire Christian religion so far as the general run of negroes are concerned.

Many of my readers are familiar with negro meetings in Kentucky. Well you ought to see one here, then go home and laugh every time you feel blue.

I suspect some superstitious current about the southern blacks.

It is dangerous to "hear a grave yard at night, for they think it is the time when the spirits of the dead hover over and live folks will have had luck with their disfigurement. It is bad to bury a corpse on Friday or to start plowing or begin any kind of work. If a rabbit crosses a negro's path he will turn back for this day or two miles around. To find a black cat lying on your door step is a sign of death in the family. The howling of a dog is another sure sign of death. To rock a chair in which no one is sitting, or to get up and leave it rocking is a sure sign of dire misfortune. And so on, ad infinitum.

"Black Maammies" managed to imbue with this dark superstition into the white children, entrusted to their care and there it remains. Education, their care and companionship fail to efface it.

"Away down in Dixie" some of the old time negroes are still living, but their masters, too, will soon be gone forever.

A CRACKER.

CORRESPONDENCE.

JOE'S LINE.

Mr. Gabriel Foley supports a new saddle and bridle, and has gone on a visit to Garrard county.

The falling leaves on the trees of this knob render it a lonely sight at this season of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Crawford visited their parents in Rock Castle last week. Mr. Lee Mannin has been doing good service for the Democrats hereabouts. He is a worker.

Much plowing has been done here recently, and a large crop of wheat will be sown.

Our people deeply sympathize with Mr. John Johnson in the loss of his dwelling and contents by fire last week.

Miss Abbie Mannin's school will soon close and she expects to go to the Atlanta Exposition. She has made a most excellent teacher and has given entire satisfaction.

Water for stock is so scarce that parties have to haul it from neighboring ponds. The building of the new colored church has not been commenced yet.

D. T.

BLUE EYE.

One of our most popular citizens, Mr. John Johnson, had the terribly uncomfortable misfortune to lose his house and all its contents, with the exception of a bed or two, by fire last Wednesday night. He lives quite a distance from any neighbors and the building was at the mercy of the flames, with no one but himself to fight them. He and his wife and several children escaped unhurt, but without sufficient clothing to protect them from the night air. He deserves and has the sympathy of the entire community. A defective fire was the cause.

Mr. John World lost his son James by sudden death last week from brain trouble.

Rev. N. Crenshaw is much improved in health to the delight of his many friends.

Several sales of corn have been made at 90c a barrel.

Good milk cows are in demand.

The Anniversary of Pilot Knob Baptist Sunday school was well attended and the address of Mr. Joseph Bauser and Rev. N. Crenshaw were highly enjoyed. The singing was good and everything passed off pleasantly, and by an uprising vote the school was asked to be continued another year.

Mr. Chas. Carter has a new scarf pin which is very handsome.

Mr. Dan Allen is visiting relatives at French Creek.

Regular meeting days at Pilot Knob Saturday and Sunday, preaching by Rev. N. Crenshaw.

The continued dry weather has kept the farmers from handling tobacco to any great extent.

Another sad murder in our neighborhood Saturday night. Jim Mullins killed by John McElone through the influence of whiskey.

Hogs are not so plentiful as the farmers who are meeting winter meat would like to see.

CHIT.

CYRUSVILLE.

Mr. Bee Short is still improving, though very low yet.

Died—At Cottonburg, Oct. 29th, Mr. J. O. Reay, son of Alexander Reay. He had been confined to his bed for some time with typhoid fever. Funeral preached by Brother A. J. Pike on the 30th. Day trial, the only true comfort, comfort for the bereaved wife and little boy and parents of the deceased.

There is a village going up just below Cottonburg. They have named it Saylesville. One of the first, John White, has a hotel, but nothing to eat.

The meeting conducted by Brother A. J. Pike and the pastor at Gilead Church resulted in 20 additions, 40 by experience and baptism and ten by relation and watch care. Several from the Reformed Church united with the Baptists at this place.

The church was greatly revived. Anxious that he might see Brother Pike preach once will want to hear him again. He presents God's word in a manner that a child may understand it. The church now has over three hundred members.

PEWTERS.

Mr. James Taylor, of Red House, and his sister spent several days with Dr. Perkins and other friends of this place during the meeting at Gilead.

Miss Mary Campbell, of Baldwin, and Miss Jane Taylor, of this place, attended the Teachers' Association at Kirtsville Saturday. Miss Mary will spend Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Bargin.

Five or six considerable damage at the home of Mrs. Malah Perkins. The fire started in some wooden goods in the stove next to the kitchen and completely destroyed twenty or more blankets besides many other things.

Mr. Newt, Herndon has about completed his new house.

Mr. Robt. Tudor has left his old hotel and moved to his new residence.

Samuel Moberley, Esq., has about got his 400-acre farm under fence.

Mr. Wm. Darig, of this place, left Friday for Illinois.

Mr. James Tudor has got his eye on one of Nixy's fat bellies.

The reason Nixy did not see his pretty girl was that he was so fat.

He had been in the same place, Nixy would have said I shot wide of my mark. Nixy said every one was entitled to his own thing so's. I will agree with Nixy on this subject, but every one is not entitled to his own say so's, and since the fairest of the flock, Miss Helen, Mrs. Moore and Malah are sisters of Mr. Newt.

Rev. Wm. Potter filled his regular appointment at the Presbyterian church last Sunday.

Dr. D. L. Fry went last week to Ohio with a view of finding a location.

Rev. Ben Hild preached Sunday night at the brick church.

The Madison County Teachers' Association convened at this place Saturday, November 21, 1895.

The Mount Lebanon Shakers have recently performed an important cure for dyspepsia. Their Digestive Cordial consists of a food already digested and a digester of foods happily combined. The importance of this invention will be appreciated when we realize what a proportion of the community are afflicted with this form of stomach trouble. Those of pale, thin people have little inclination to eat, and what they do eat causes them pain and distress.

This Digestive Cordial of the Shakers corrects any stomach derangement at once. It uses this people's own tissues, which are made into a food, and the little book which has been placed in the hands of all druggists for free distribution.

—School Trustees.—At the school election yesterday three trustees were named: R. L. Gentry, Thomas Campbell and Z. T. Rice. All good men.

—Felt Here.—Many persons in Richmond and vicinity felt the earthquake on last Thursday morning, and in a few houses pictures on the walls moved slightly. It was scored in Louisville, where a few houses were cracked.

—Married in Garrard.—Dr. Craig and Miss Sue Langhman and Mr. J. H. Bingham and Miss Laura Logan (Carter) all residing in Stanford, were married by Elder Geo. Gowan at the Christian church in this city Wednesday evening at five o'clock.—Lancaster Record.

—Printed the Ballots.—The CLIMAX printed the 8,000 ballots for yesterday's election in this city. They were bound in twenty books, one for each voting precinct. Also the ballots for the Berea town election, and the poll books for the school trustee election in Richmond.

—New Foreman.—The CLIMAX has secured the services of Mr. A. M. Browne, of Lexington, as foreman. He is an artist, as evidenced by the advertisements of Stationer M. H. Brown, the Topeka, Kansas, Commercial College, and others in this issue. With Messrs. Bradley and Sharkey, mentioned last week, the CLIMAX is prepared to do all kinds of work up to and including the finest.

—To be Debated.—The Silver Creek Debating Society has been organized for the winter. The first subject is "Who Was the Greater Man, Daniel Boone or Henry Clay?" One side will present the fact that Daniel had a cigar named for him. The other will offset that by mentioning that the clay pipe is equally as worthy of consideration.

—Sued for $10,000.—Capt. J. H. Myers, who used to run here on the Richmond Branch, has sued the L. & N. for $10,000 damages. Years ago he suffered an accident while in the employ of the company, which crippled him for life. He compromised his claim for damages by accepting the position as conductor, with a guarantee that he should hold it as long as he was able to discharge the duties. Some time ago the company relieved him without apparent cause, so he states, and the suit is to enforce the contract.

—Found Flying.—Champ Mullins was found lying in Cowbell Hollow, near his home, vicinity of Big Hill, Sunday morning, with four 38 balls in his body and head. John McHone owns the killing, and claims that he did it in self defense.

—Mullins says Mullins was trying to cut him with his knife; several holes were cut in his coat. Mullins was shot some time after midnight and died about 8 o'clock Sunday morning; leaves a wife and three little children; nothing left for support. McHone is in jail.

—Klein-Miller.—The marriage of Mr. J. Grant Miller and Miss Carrie Klein will occur Wednesday, Nov. 6th, at the residence of the bride's father, the Rev. Ignaz Miller, officiating. Owing to the recent death of Mrs. Miller's mother the wedding will be a quiet one, with the immediate families of the bride and groom being present. Mr. and Mrs. Miller will leave that same evening for an extended trip North.—Louisville Times.

—Miss Klein is a daughter of the senior member of the dry goods firm of Klein & Son, this place, and Mr. Miller is the manager of the business in Richmond.

—An Important Office.—To properly fill its office and functions, it is important that the blood be pure. When it is in such a condition, the body is almost certain to be healthy. A complaint in this line is caused in some of its various forms. A slight cold develops the disease in the blood. Droppings of corruption passing into the lungs bring on consumption. The only way to cure this disease is to purify the blood. The most delicate cases of catarrh yield to the medical process of Hood's Sarsaparilla as if by magic, simply because it reaches the seat of the disease, and by purifying and vitalizing the blood, removes the cause. Not only does Hood's Sarsaparilla do this but it gives renewed vigor to the whole system, making it possible for good health to reign supreme.

—An Artist in Various Ways.—The tramp shoe maker that stole Harry Kelley's money and shoes, and who is now languishing in jail, is not only a good shoemaker and a slick citizen generally, but is something of an artist as well. He has decorated his cell prominently with the black walls a large cross with human figure hanging on it in imitation of Christ being crucified. Besides it is a corner is a large round heater on which he has drawn a bird cage with a parrot sitting on its perch, which looks as real as if it were. He says the parrot wakes him up every morning. On the outside of his cell are hung up shoes, flower pots and signs of shoes for sale, made or repaired, all done in black. It is all done up in artistic style and quite a contrast to the rest of the surroundings. He will spend the winter here in prison.

—R. N. I. & R. Extension.—Concerning the recent Louisville delegation who visited the line as far as Louisville, the Interior-Examiner. One of them made the remark that a train of cars would be run to Louisville on the R. N. I. & R. before the first day of November 1896. We are inclined to the opinion that there is something of this kind in store for Louisville.

—A Child Enjoys.—The pleasant flavor, gentle action and soothing effect of Syrup of Figs, when in need of a laxative, and if the father or mother be constipated or bilious, the most satisfying result follows its use, so that it is the best family remedy known, and every family should have a bottle on hand.

—Deafness Cannot be Cured.—by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Syrup of Figs, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous membrane.

—We will give one hundred dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

Mr. Chennault is of the firm of Chennault & Panch, a popular shoe house of this city, and a very prominent young man. Miss Goodpastor is a daughter of Mrs. Fannie Goodpastor and one of the most popular young ladies in Bath county. This wedding will be a much talked of society event.—Mt. Sterling Sentinel-Democrat.

—The Vote of the City Hall Precinct Thrown Out Because of Republican Ignorance.—The law requires the clerk of election to sign his name across the back of every ballot before giving it to the voter. A blank is provided for that purpose immediately under the facsimile of the County Clerk.

—Election Clerk McSwain failed to endorse the ballots in City Hall precinct in Richmond, and the entire vote was thrown out last night. The majority was 175 Republican.

—J. B. Willis went to the polls in the morning and said he wanted to read the law to the officers. R. R. Burman, Republican judge of election, told him they knew the law and that Mr. Willis couldn't get out, which he did.

—It is simply astounding that the Republican officers would sit there all day and not discover the serious omission—a most important matter designed to prevent fraud. It is indeed wonderful that some Republican voter did not detect the omission. Democrats are not expected to see such blunders when made by Republicans in a Republican precinct.

—The same Republicans who can't run a precinct election want to run the county, the State and the Nation. Well, well!
